

Itching Blisters Over Baby's Head Cuticura Heals

"A breaking out began on the top of baby's head. It seemed to itch and then later it went into little blisters that spread all over his head and his hair came out. His scalp was red and sore and he irritated it by scratching. He was cross and fretful and the eruption caused his head to look badly for large scales had formed."

"His head had been sore for a month before I used Cuticura Soap and I used one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment which healed him." (Signed) Mrs. M. H. Fish-lack, Kane, Illinois.

Cuticura Soap daily and Cuticura Ointment occasionally prevent pimples or other eruptions. They are a pleasure to use, as is also Cuticura Talcum for perfuming the skin.

Sample Soap Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Lab-oratories, Dept. M, Malden 45, Mass., U.S.A." Where Soap, Ointment and Talcum are made. Cuticura Soap always without water.

Eczema Caused Years of Intense Agony

"I have suffered intense agony from eczema on my leg and other parts of my body for years and received only temporary relief from other preparations. It is only a month since I started to use PETERSON'S OINTMENT, and there is no sign of eczema or itching. You can refer to me."—Geo. V. Talbot, 27, Peabody Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I guarantee PETERSON'S OINTMENT because I know that its mighty healing power is marvelous. I say to every one who buys a box that it is rigidly guaranteed for eczema, salt rheum, old sores, blind, bleeding and itching piles, ulcers, skin diseases, chafing, burns, scalds and sunburn, and if not satisfactory any drug-gist will return your money." Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

L. M. Penwell, President, Phone 75. R. M. Johnson, Sec'y Treas., Phone 3619.

THE L. M. PENWELL UNDERTAKING CO.

806-508-510 Quincy Street, Phone 152

BACKS UP WALL ST

New York Financier Declares Financial System Needed.

Railways Hard Put Were It Not for Money Machine.

ALL CLASSES ARE BENEFITED

Only by Proper Handling of Securities Can Industries Live.

Declares Time Come to Correct National Business Errors.

Washington, Oct. 21.—The time has now arrived when many mistakes must be corrected if the United States is to return to its previous financial stability and prosperity. Sol Wexler, of J. S. Bache & Co., of New York, told the American Bankers' association in its convention here today. The most pressing and important of these questions were defined by Mr. Wexler as follows: "Complete revision of present tax laws so that industry and initiative is not destroyed and business bankrupted." "Restoration of the price of liberty bonds to more nearly the price at which they were issued." "Establishment of an intelligent and competent consular service in foreign countries to assist American export trade."

Need Sedition Laws. "The passing of anti-sedition laws so that those who do not favor our form of government and attempt to agitate the public mind in the direction of violence and disorder can be placed where they can do no harm."

"We must urge businesslike and economical administration of governmental functions, rehabilitate our broken-down postal system, establish and live up to a budget of expenditure."

"We must educate the public on the subject of what a money center, (so-called 'Wall Street') really means, and how necessary such a center is to the security of the nation."

Mr. Wexler declared that without the complicated and efficient machinery of "Wall Street" for the distribution of securities and the maintenance of markets, "our railroads would have a difficult time financing their equipment purchase, our copper and silver mines would not have developed so rapidly, our motor companies would be many years behind in the perfection of the automobile and their production on quantity basis."

The machinery of Wall Street has made it possible for everyone from the financial magnate to the humble bricklayer to participate in the earnings and equities of our large enterprises. It is due to this gigantic partnership of the American public that the rapid development of our industries has been made possible."

OKLAHOMA APPLAUDS ALLEN. Suggests in Bartlesville Speech That State Adopt His Plan.

Bartlesville, Okla., Oct. 21.—In an address before the local Kiwanis club here last night, Gov. H. J. Allen of Kansas urged the adoption in Oklahoma of an industrial relations court bill similar to the one which he said had been successful in Kansas.

His suggestion that such a bill be framed and enacted at once was met with applause from the members. In the introduction speech, before the club, the members went on record as favoring the nomination of Governor Allen for the next Republican candidate for president and in the governor's reply it was accomplished.

Crushing the Farmer

BY WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE.

Society in the last two decades in the middle west, particularly, has been slowly crushing the American farmer. What New England did in the last part of the nineteenth century we of the middle west, particularly of Kansas, are doing now to the mid-western farmer. The industrial wave of the nation is moving rapidly westward. High wages, high prices, high rent, make dear land and as a result, farm tenancy is increasing by terrible leaps and bounds all over the Missouri valley. Kansas in the last decade has seen thousands of farms all but abandoned, for too many tenanted farms were so impoverished and run-down that the next step was abandonment. And all this is because, with the gradual encroachment of industry in American life, we have been robbing the American farmer. The Republican platform expresses the feeling that the farmer is being crushed by the farmer. So does the Democratic platform. Harding has said that the farmer is in a class by himself and must have special consideration from the government and from the American people. Cox has said the same thing. The farmer must have special consideration from the American people. He cannot grow crops profitable today upon high priced land with high priced labor and high rates of interest.

The father, who owns the lands, may get along. But the son who owns no land and the farmer tenant cannot thrive. In the industrial world move, the young farmer and the tenant quit making food and begin making things. And so all food products are high and must remain high.

The people of Kansas this year have an opportunity to help the Kansas farmer. An amendment to the Kansas constitution is being submitted. Amendment No. 1—which permits the legislature of Kansas to set aside a special fund which may be used for the purchase of land. The land, under the amendment, may be sold to the landless farmer. He does not have to have any part of the purchase price down. His Kansas blood and Kansas energy and his Kansas ambition are regarded as sufficient collateral. But he occupies and tills the farm which remains the property of Kansas until it is all paid for in small payments distributed over a long time at a nominal rate of interest. This removes one handicap from the Kansas farmer; it removes the handicap of high interest and high rates of rent.

If Amendment No. 1 is passed the Kansas boy who now leaves the Kansas farm to go into a garage or go out of the state to work in a factory, can find enough land to work to keep him in funds, he can rear his family, he will not have to worry about rent or high rates of interest. And Kansas will hold its boys in the business of making food rather than in the business of food consumption. This is no new and radical proposal. It has been tried in several states and in several Anglo-Saxon countries. And always it has succeeded.

This proposition would give the landless youth an opportunity to own a home and a farm for himself; the proposition is the answer which modern industrial society must make to the steadily increasing abandoned farms and tenant farms of the middle west. In Kansas more than half the farms are tenant farms; and a tenant farm does not yield as well as a farm owned by the farmer. This has greatly decreased our annual output of foodstuffs and that again tends to make food prices high. It is the duty and obligation of every citizen of Kansas to vote for Amendment No. 1. It is the first step toward reducing the high cost of living. It is the first step toward making Kansas a larger and better state. During the decade now passing we gained only about 75,000 people. There were three or four times that many babies born in the state, but as fast as babies are born, young men and young women move out. Something must be done to keep them at home, something that will help to put them on farms. And there is only one way under heaven to put them on Kansas farms if they have no money and that is for the people of Kansas to furnish them credit, and that credit, with the collateral of good Kansas blood and educational training is the only way on earth to make them stay. A vote for Amendment No. 1 is a vote for a better state of Kansas. A vote against it is a vote for high prices of food and a great area of wasting land.

AUTO MEN ELECT OFFICERS

Several Topeka Dealers Chosen as Officers for Next Year.

Salina, Kan., Oct. 21.—At the closing session of the Kansas State Automobile Dealers' association convention, held here Wednesday, the following officers were elected: Will G. Price of Wichita, president; W. H. Trefry of Topeka, vice president; M. H. Schallenger of Wichita, treasurer; J. P. Ollinger of Salina, Frank Slason of Plainville, L. W. Rowles of Topeka, A. E. Kirk of Hutchinson; Mark Banker of Wichita, A. D. Gise of Coffeyville, Louis McCoy of Garden City, and Harry Innes of Topeka, directors.

The next convention of the association will be held in 1921 in Hutchinson. It was decided at the final session. The meet at Salina was characterized as the best which has ever been held by the organization.

REGISTRATION CLOSES FRIDAY.

Tomorrow Is Last Opportunity for Kansas to Register.

When city clerks close their offices Friday night the last opportunity for persons living in Kansas cities of the first and second class to register for the general election November 2 will be gone. So says Attorney General Richard J. Hopkins.

Some confusion has arisen in this state as to interpretation of the statute which says that registration shall be closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23.

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

NOW

That You Are in the Market for DIAMONDS WATCHES or JEWELRY

INVESTIGATE

My Partial Payment Plan

Our bigger and better Jewelry Department is offering hundreds of specials during this month. As little as $1 a week will pay for a beautiful Diamond or Watch.

A Dollar A Week Will Do There is no bother or red tape in opening an account here. Simply pay a small amount down—and the balance to suit your own convenience.

The Diamonds you own have increased very much in value and will increase much more. Don't sell them, but rather have them remounted in Modern Settings.

Write for Catalogue "A"

The Santa Fe Watch Co.

821 Kansas Avenue Topeka, Kansas

Which Bridge should a woman choose?

The Weak or the Strong One

If you see before you a strong and safe bridge leading to your goal, would you ignore it and choose some insecure and tottering structure?

If you were offered sure aid in time of trouble would you hesitate to accept it?

The answer is simple—you would choose what all evidence showed to be the safe way—and you would risk nothing in useless experiments.

Why then do some women risk one of their most precious possessions—their health—in trying medicines of unknown value, when everybody knows that the most successful remedy for woman's ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is more proof:

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then closed ten days preceding an election, according to reports received by the attorney general's office. Some city clerks have announced that the poll books will be open until the night of October 23."

Attorney General Hopkins has not been asked for an official ruling but his interpretation of the law is that ten full days must intervene between the time the poll books close and the day of the election, which means that October 22 will be the last chance to register.

The wording of the law is that the books "shall be closed for the purpose of registration ten days preceding an election."

The law provides that city clerks shall keep their offices open during the noon hour and until 9 o'clock at night for the ten days preceding the close of registration.

London Blaze Costs Millions.

London, Oct. 21.—Fire which started late last evening in the hop exchange in Southwark street, was still burning this morning. Some estimates place the loss at £1,000,000.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, gaiter in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none